I am a 9th grade student. This school year started successfully for me. I took part in several competitions and won prizes. A person should always be in search. If everyone does not develop himself as a person, in the future it will be difficult for him to become a citizen who will meet the expectations of his parents and siblings and find his place in life. I have a lot of goals for this year. For example, at the end of the year, I became the best student, received a red certificate, and fulfilled the expectations of my parents and teachers who prepared me and gave me all their knowledge. My favorite subjects are Russian and English languages. I especially like these subjects. One of my main goals is to learn another language and become a professional necessary for society in the future. Apart from school subjects, I participate in various clubs. For example, sports sections, a group of young tour guides and a traditional singing group. I really like doing them. Singing energizes and inspires my soul, and sports sections help me maintain my health and always be in good shape, and a group of young tour guides helps me speak freely in front of the crowd and express my thoughts openly. I like my life. Now I will finish my studies with a good grade and try my best to become a good professional in the future.
